⊘ Avoid

Warm Colors

Colors with a yellow or golden undertone, like oranges, mustards, and warm browns, can clash with cool winter tones. These colors can make winter types look sallow and unbalanced.

Soft and Muted Colors

Light, dusty, or pastel colors that lack contrast and intensity can wash out the vibrancy needed for winter complexions. These shades fail to provide the necessary boldness.

Earth Tones

Colors like olive green, rust, and beige can make winter types look washed out and dull. These tones do not provide the clear, crisp look that enhances winter's natural beauty.
